Savy — Website Copy

Oct 24, 2026 · @Plum

What the research says

Verification is the step in a 506(c) raise that stalls a close, and both sides resent it. The copy sells the moment it stops being their problem.

Audience	What hurts today	Emotion to channel	Source
Funds / issuers (receiving party)	A checkbox isn't enough under 506(c). Collecting 2 yrs of tax forms or recent statements per LP is heavy admin on a 40-investor raise. A verification file must be kept per purchaser.	Fear of a blown close or audit exposure; relief at a clean file	Allocations, Angel Investors Network
Investors / LPs (being verified)	Don't want to send tax returns to a manager they barely know. Spouses get pulled in. Statements must be within 3 months, so the clock resets each closing. CPA letters cost $300–$500+ and take 1–2 weeks.	Privacy, irritation at repeat paperwork; status of being pre-cleared	Same

Market context. Third-party services run $50–$100 per investor with 24–48 hr turnaround (Angel Investors Network). On 12 Mar 2025 SEC staff said minimums of $200,000 (individuals) / $1M (entities) plus written reps can satisfy verification (Orrick). That's non-binding and only helps big checks, so every raise below those minimums still needs real verification.

Positioning gap. Incumbents sell compliance ("a letter in 48 hours"). Nobody sells the outcome: the close that doesn't slip and the investor who never re-sends a bank statement. That's where Savy's copy lives, and it matches the images we made.

Headline and hero

Recommended hero (pairs with hero image 12, the boardroom handshake):

> # Every LP verified in 10 minutes. Not 10 days.
>
> Savy verifies accredited investors in [X minutes], so your LPs stop sending bank statements and your raise stops waiting on them.
>
> [Start verifying] [See how it works]
>
> Trust line: Bank-grade encryption · Built for Rule 506(c) · Investor data never touches your inbox

Alternates, by angle:

Headline	Angle	Best for
Close the round. Not the paperwork.	Deal closing; two-sided	Homepage alt (previous hero)
Verified before the handshake.	Status, speed	Homepage alt; hero 12
The last thing standing between you and your close. Gone.	Relief	Fund page; hero 11
Accredited, once. Invested, everywhere.	Status, reusability	Investor page; hero 13
Your LPs are ready to wire. Their paperwork isn't.	Problem-aware pain	Paid ads, fund page
No more "just one more statement."	Mirrors LP frustration	Investor page, social
Compliance that moves at the speed of conviction.	Aspiration	Pitch deck, investor-relations

Subhead variants:

- Both sides: Funds get an audit-ready file. Investors get verified once and move on.
- Funds: Every LP verified, documented and filed before your first close. No chasing.
- Investors: Prove it once, privately. Invest wherever Savy is accepted.

Homepage sections

1. Problem

Eyebrow: The part nobody budgets time for Headline: Your round is oversubscribed. Your close is three weeks late.

Body: A 506(c) raise needs more than a checkbox. It needs two years of tax returns, statements from the last three months, and a file for every LP. So your team chases PDFs while your investors wonder why a fund they trust wants their bank statements. Everyone wants the deal done. The paperwork is what's in the way.

2. How it works

Headline: Three steps. Zero chasing.

1. Invite. Send your LPs one Savy link. No account setup on your side.
2. Verify. Investors connect accounts or upload documents once. Savy's AI reviews them in [X minutes], with licensed review where the rule requires it.
3. Close. You get a verification letter and an audit-ready file for every investor, in one dashboard.

3. Outcomes

Headline: What it feels like on the other side.

Card	Copy	Image
Close on schedule	Every LP cleared before your first close. The wire is the only thing left.	02 or 14
Sleep through the audit	One clean file per purchaser, timestamped and ready to hand over.	06 or 19

Card	Copy	Image
Treat LPs like LPs	Your investors never email a tax return to your inbox. They notice.	09
Verified once, reused	Investors carry their status to the next Savy deal. No repeat paperwork.	07

4. Proof

Headline: Built for the people who sign the checks, and the people who cash them.

- [N] investors verified · [$X] in commitments cleared · [X min] median verification
- Testimonial slots: one GP, one LP. Use real quotes only once you have them.

5. Closing CTA

Headline: Your next close is already on the calendar. Let's keep it there.

Body: Set up Savy in [an afternoon]. Your first investor can be verified today.

Audience pages

For funds and issuers (receiving party)

Hero: The last thing standing between you and your close. Gone.

Sub: Savy verifies every LP in your 506(c) raise and hands you an audit-ready file. Your team stops chasing PDFs.

Body: You generally solicited. That was the right call. Now every investor has to be verified, documented and filed, and your ops lead is the one doing it. Savy takes that job. Send one link. Investors verify on their own time, privately. You see who's cleared, who's pending and who needs a nudge, all in one view. When the auditor or your counsel asks, the file is already there.

Benefit bullets:

- One link per raise. No portals, no spreadsheets, no email attachments.
- Live LP status. Cleared, pending, expired, all in one dashboard.

- Audit-ready by default. A timestamped verification record per purchaser, exportable in one click.
- Entity investors handled. Trusts, LLCs and look-throughs are flagged before they block your close.
- Your LPs stay happy. Their documents never land in your inbox.

Objection handlers:

- "We just use a checkbox." Under 506(c), self-certification alone doesn't count as verification. Savy is the step that does.
- "Our checks are over $200K." The 2025 SEC staff guidance helps, but it's non-binding and needs written reps. Savy collects those too, so every investor is covered either way.
- "Our LPs hate paperwork." So do we. With account connections, most never upload a document. [Confirm once account linking ships.]

For investors (being verified)

Hero: Accredited, once. Invested, everywhere.

Sub: Verify your status privately in [X minutes]. Your tax returns never go to a fund manager's inbox.

Body: You've done the work to get here. You shouldn't have to prove it to every fund with a PDF and a prayer. Savy checks your status securely and gives the fund a yes, not your financial life. When your next deal uses Savy, you're already cleared. [Confirm reuse window with counsel.]

Benefit bullets:

- Private by design. Funds see your status, not your statements.
- Minutes, not weeks. No CPA letter, no $300 invoice, no two-week wait.
- Once, then done. Your verification travels with you to the next Savy deal.
- Spouse-friendly. Joint filers verify together in one flow.

Objection handlers:

- "Why should I trust you with my data?" Bank-grade encryption, read-only account connections, and data deleted on your schedule. [Confirm with security specs.]
- "I already sent this to another fund." Then you know why we built Savy.

Offers

Two offers on the Evolve framework: the fund pays and buys a closed round, and the investor pays nothing and gets a private pass. The core promise in one line: Savy helps emerging VC managers get every LP verified and filed before first close, in [7] days, using the Verify-Once Pass.

Offer 1: Funds (the buyer)

Element	Savy
Specific person	GP of an emerging VC fund (Fund I–III, roughly $10–100M) raising under 506(c). Two or three partners, no ops hire, GP runs IR personally between portfolio work.
Specific problem	Every LP needs real verification, and the GP is the one chasing tax returns. They tried a checkbox (doesn't count), a CPA letter (1–2 weeks, $300–$500+) or a $50–$100 service that still makes them track status in a spreadsheet. It costs them closing days and LP goodwill.
Mistaken belief	"Our checks are big, so the 2025 SEC letter covers us." It's non-binding, needs written reps, and only covers $200K+ individuals and $1M+ entities.
Specific way (unique mechanism)	The Verify-Once Pass. AI reviews each investor's documents or linked accounts, a licensed reviewer signs off, and the investor's cleared status is reusable on their next Savy deal. Others sell one letter per deal; Savy sells a status that travels.
Transformation (high-level promise)	Every LP verified and filed within [7] days of sending the invite, so the wire is the only thing left before close. The feeling: calm on closing day, a clean file if anyone asks, LPs who think your fund runs tight.

Element	Savy
Price	Market is $50–$100 per investor and still DIY for the GP. Savy is done-for-you, so price at or slightly above that per LP, or a flat [$X] per raise. Pilot funds: free for the first raise under an LOI, in exchange for a logo and a quote.
Guarantee	If an LP isn't cleared within 24 hours of submitting, that verification is free. [Only run once median time supports it.]
Funnel	Leads: GP network, emerging-manager communities, LinkedIn outbound to Fund I–II GPs. Money: demo call using the Evolve script → pilot LOI → paid per raise.

Pillars, the 4-step process for the pitch and the "How it works" section:

1. Invite (DFY): one Savy link for the raise. Sent by Savy or the GP.
2. Verify (DFY): AI document review plus licensed sign-off. Investor spends minutes, GP spends zero.
3. Clear (DFY): live dashboard of who's cleared, pending or expired, with automatic nudges.
4. File (DFY): audit-ready verification record per purchaser, one-click export for counsel.

All four pillars are done-for-you, the highest-value delivery tier. That's the justification for pricing above DIY services.

Offer 2: Investors (the receiving side of the request)

Element	Savy
Specific person	Accredited angel or LP, often a founder, executive or physician, writing $25K–$250K checks into a few funds or syndicates a year.
Specific problem	Every new fund asks for the same tax returns and fresh statements, and they're handing private financials to someone they met twice.

Element	Savy
Specific way	The Verify-Once Pass: verify privately once, and the fund only sees "cleared."
Transformation	Verified in [10] minutes, and pre-cleared for the next Savy deal. Investing feels as easy as saying yes.
Price	Free. The fund pays.
Guarantee	Your documents are never shared with the fund. [Confirm with data handling.]

The 7 beliefs: where the site earns each one

The sales script says a prospect needs all 7 beliefs to buy. A website has to earn them without a call.

Belief	What the GP must believe	Where on the site	Line that does it
Pain	Verification is slowing my close	Homepage problem section	"Your round is oversubscribed. Your close is three weeks late."
Doubt	I can't fix this with a checkbox or a spreadsheet	Fund page objections	"Under 506(c), self-certification alone doesn't count as verification."

Belief	What the GP must believe	Where on the site	Line that does it
Cost	Doing nothing costs more than Savy	Fund page body	Days of closing delay plus GP hours, against [$X] per raise
Desire	Life is better on the other side	Outcomes cards, hero image	"The wire is the only thing left."
Money	I can afford this	Pricing block	Free pilot, then priced near what they already pay per LP
Support	My partners and LPs will back it	Investor page, LP proof	"Your LPs stay happy. Their documents never land in your inbox."
Trust	This is different from what burned me	Mechanism + guarantee	The Verify-Once Pass and the 24-hour promise

Pilot call script (Evolve structure, Savy-specific)

Frame: "Everything we do depends on how your raise is set up. Can I ask a few questions about your current close first, then show you only what's relevant?"

Discovery questions, one per belief:

- Pain: "Walk me through how you verified LPs on your last close. Where did it stall?"
- Doubt: "What have you tried, a checkbox, a CPA letter, a service? What didn't work?"
- Cost: "How many days did verification add to the close? What did that cost you with LPs?"
- Desire: "If every LP were cleared before you sent the closing memo, what would that change?"
- Money: "What do you spend per LP on verification today, including your own time?"
- Support: "Who else signs off on a tool like this, your partners or counsel?"
- Trust: "What would you need to see to trust a new approach with LP data?"

Pitch: "For your fund it's four things: invite, verify, clear, file. Four steps from chasing PDFs to an audit-ready close in about [7] days." Tie each pillar back to a pain they named.

Temp check: "On a scale of 1–10, how does this process feel for your next close?" Don't move on below 9.

Price drop: "Once you're in, we set up your raise link the same day. For pilot funds, the first raise is free. All we ask is a signed LOI and a quote if it works." Then stop talking.

Close: Get the LOI signed on the call and book the raise-setup call before you hang up.

Taglines, microcopy and images

Taglines: Verified. Done. · Proof without the paperwork. · The yes before the wire. · Accreditation, handled.

One-liner: Savy is AI-powered accredited investor verification that gets 506(c) raises to close without the paperwork chase.

CTA bank: Start verifying · Verify my status · Invite my LPs · See how it works · Book a demo

Microcopy:

Spot	Copy
Investor upload screen	Your documents go to Savy, not the fund.
Account connect	Read-only. We can see balances, never move money.
Verified state	You're verified. [Fund name] has been notified.
Pending state (fund)	3 LPs still verifying. We'll nudge them so you don't have to.
Expired state	This verification is past its window. Re-verify in about a minute.
Footer disclaimer	Savy does not provide legal, tax or investment advice. Consult counsel on how Rule 506(c) applies to your offering.
